

	Choose a rating to show where you are at.
Learning Target	Advanced 4	Proficient 3	Partially Proficient 2	Not Proficient Yet 1
I can describe the 4 air masses - the types of weather the air masses bring with them and where those air masses form.
Prove it: Polar: Tropical: Maritime: Continental:
I can describe the 4 fronts – what causes each one; the weather that follows each front; the way the front appears on a weather map.
Prove it: Cold front: Warm front: Occluded front: Stationary front:
I can describe the weather that is associated with the three main cloud types and I can describe the meaning of the prefixes and suffixes in cloud names.
Prove it: Cirrus: Stratus: Cumulus:

Learning Target	Choose a rating to show where you are at.
	Advanced 4	Proficient 3	Partially Proficient 2	Not Proficient Yet 1
I can describe the atmosphere by naming the gases that it is made of.
Prove it:
I can list the layers of the atmosphere in order from the Earth's surface to higher altitudes.
Prove it:
I can describe the important facts of each layer of the atmosphere.
Prove it:
Thermosphere- Mesosphere- Troposphere- Stratosphere-

This evening I will focus on: (List the targets you still need to practice)

I will practice by: